6. Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, telephoned and inquired if we had any current information on the whereabouts of [redacted] I advised that we did not.

Sourwine also asked if General Cabell could testify before the Subcommittee, having in mind his American Legion speech of 21 August. I asked him if he could be more specific and Sourwine stated that such a knowledgeable individual as General Cabell should certainly be able to tell the Subcommittee information it did not have whether it be in executive session or open session. I told him I would look into the matter and advise.
